Road Block Nets Over $2500 For Rescue Squad

Last Saturday the Elba Rescue Squad had its vehicles parked on every highway leading into Elba - and plenty of helping hands to receive donations from passing motorists.

From 7:30 in the morning until 3:30 that afternoon, they collected $2525.31 toward the purchase of the new ambulance; but that's not all. There is yet uncounted money, and promises of donations "if you'll come by and pick it up."

An out-of-town contributor, J. M. Jackson Buick & Cadillac Company of Opp, sent in a check for $100. They had read in last week's edition of the Clipper that the road block was planned.

Roger Daughtry, a member of the Squad, spoke for all the members. He said "We appreciate the response we received from everyone."

Convict Escapes From Camp Elba Thursday

Last Thursday evening around 7 o'clock, a prisoner at Camp Elba escaped into the nearby woods. Two men attempted the escape but only Charles Austin was successful in getting completely away.

Charles Austin is a 6-foot tall colored male, weighing about 160 pounds. Another distinguishing feature is that his hair is slightly reddish.

Austin was serving time for forgery from Russell County, Alabama. It was not known at the time of his escape if he was armed or unarmed. An extensive search by City, County and State law officers had failed to return the man to the prison camp at press time Tuesday.

Possibly related to this escape was an automobile stolen Friday from the parking lot at Kleinert's. The automobile, a 1964 Oldsmobile Cutlass, was taken sometime between 7 a.m. and 5:30 p.m., according to the police report. The car, owned by George Williams, was described as a 2-door, gray with black vinyl top, bearing Alabama license number 1B-5665. The keys had been removed from the ignition and apparently the car was "hot wired." No trace of it had been found at press time Tuesday.

Jones Arrested For Assault

A 21-year-old colored male, Samuel Lewis Jones, was arrested Monday night and charged Tuesday morning with assaulting a local woman in her home.

Jones, originally from Mobile County, gives his present address as Rt. 5, Elba (Pin Hook Inn). He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Neil Grantham. Grantham was assisted in the investigation by local police and state investigators.

During the past week this newspaper has received reports of several cases of "peeping toms" and worse, of women being assaulted in their homes. Local police and the Coffee County Sheriff's department are investigating these reports and urge any other victims to report immediately to the proper authorities any information that would be helpful in halting these attacks.

In the meantime The Elba Clipper strongly urges everyone, especially women alone, to be sure their doors and windows are secure at all times and window shades are closed to remove the temptation to "peep" and possibly break into their homes.

Woman Hurt In Shooting On Saturday

A husband-wife disagreement last Saturday afternoon led to a shotgun blast, wife in hospital and husband in jail charged with assault with intent to murder, according to Deputy Sheriff Don Rayford.

Donald Ray Reeves, Rt. 4, Elba, was charged with attempting to murder his wife Beulah at their home south of Elba. Reeves was released from the county jail several hours later on a $3,000 bond.

Mrs. Reeves was taken to the Elba General Hospital by the Elba Rescue Squad where she was treated for gunshot wounds and later released.

Deputy Rayford gave the following account of the incident: Mr. and Mrs. Reeves were in the process of getting a divorce and Deputy Rayford reports that Mrs. Reeves had gone to the family home Saturday afternoon to see if their problems could be worked out so that she could drop the divorce proceedings.

Mr. Reeves and their 18-year-old son Tommy were at home at the time and when Reeves came out with the 12 gauge shotgun, his wife ran behind the car and the shot hit the car and some came through the window striking Mrs. Reeves. The son Tommy reportedly tried to stop his father from shooting at his mother.

Story Hour At Library Ends For Summer

The Summer Story Hour at the Elba Library ended last Thursday after 10 weeks, with two stories per week read to the children attending.

Mrs. Mary Dowling, librarian, reports a successful program, with average attendance of 18 children, ages 4 - 7. Mothers and teachers were the story tellers; and from time to time, local students provided entertainment. Sherry Marier played the guitar and sang for the young listeners on one occasion; and Vonda Marler, a dancing student, shared her talents on another. Suzie Powell brought her pet rabbit and told a story about a rabbit. Refreshments were served each day.

"We had a real good story hour," says Mrs. Dowling, "and I appreciate so much the interest shown by parents and grandparents, also."

Mrs. Dowling also reminds participants of the Dick Dunn Summer Reading Program that the wrestler will be at the library on August 6, at 10 a.m. to sign readers' cards.

New Lawn Planted At Agricultural Center

THOMAS C. CASADAY
The Coffee County Agricultural Center near New Brockton has a brand new Meyer Zoyzia Grass lawn. Over an acre of this grass was sprigged at the Center last week. The grass was watered several days and the recent rains have helped to get it started.

Meyer Zoyzia was selected because it has a dark green color and is more disease resistant than some of the finer grades of Zoyzia. The sprigs were placed by an automatic sprigger in rows approximately 8 inches wide. Prior to planting a ton of calcitic lime was applied per acre. 400 pounds of 13-13-13 was applied per acre and 5 tons of chicken manure was applied and disked in thoroughly. The chicken manure was used because a lot of grading work was necessary and much of the topsoil was removed. All the area on the sides of the center office building is Meyer Zoyzia. Emerald is much finer. Emerald is all the area on the sides of the coliseum is Emerald.

There must have been many smiles on the faces of the different National Football League Coaches and owners during last Friday's College All Star Miami Dolphins game. Never before in the history of that particular game have the All Stars displayed so much raw talent. You had to notice the kicking of Ray Guy of Southern Mississippi.

Also big John Hannah of Alabama blocked Miami's Nanny Fernandez as good as anybody in the NFL could have. Bert Jones seems bound for greatness as a quarterback. These pre season press conferences are such a bore.

It was a pleasure to see Charlie Pride, the Country and Western singer Monday night on the NBC baseball game. Not many were aware that Charlie is a former professional baseball player. He is certainly an avid baseball fan, although he seems to think he chose the right career. So do most of his fans, including

On the subject of NBC baseball, TroyKokke, in my opinion, is the most prolific and informed baseball commentator in the business. Kokke notices and makes note of many things that the average fan would never see during an exciting play. His knowledge of the game and Curt Gowdy's expert opinions certainly make for an enjoyable night of viewing and listening.

Set Aside Announces

Other Action

Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz, following up President Nixon's Phase IV Economic announcement yesterday, has made a series of moves to maintain our much wanted food for domestic and export markets.

Secretary Butz announced that there would be no government set aside of land in 1974 for feed grains, soybeans, wheat and cotton. This will free approximately 19 million additional acres for production in 1974.

"Farmers will be free to go all out to produce feed grain, soybeans, wheat and cotton next year, and can make those plans now," Secretary Butz says.

"With grain and cotton prices at current levels, and with the possibility of contracting to sell 1974 harvests at strong prices, I have every confidence that farmers will respond to this opportunity," Secretary Butz said.

"The actions taken in Phase IV to assure farmers of a fair return of poultry, pork, beef and milk will improve prospects in those commodities so that farmers can plan for profitable production."

"This will reverse the recent trend where we have seen farmers ship pregnant cows to slaughter and baby chicks killed because of poor possibilities of meeting cost. Both farmers and consumers will be better off if the malaise ahead as a result of Phase IV."

"If we have a feed grain harvest this fall of the size now anticipated, and if we have an adequate crop in 1974, we will avoid export controls on grain. We expect to lift all export controls when the 1973 crops become available." Agricultural exports are a prime resource of foreign exchange with which to buy our national energy supplies and other critical needs. Controls on exports of U. S. farm products which are vital to the world disrupt foreign economies and our relationships with foreign nations. By increasing our agricultural production we can continue to maintain our much wanted food for domestic and export markets.

Secretary Butz pointed out the change made in government farm programs last fall and this spring have helped increase farm plantings nine percent this year. "We are now projecting record harvests for feed grain, wheat and soybeans this year. 6, 13 and 24 percent respectively from a year earlier," Secretary Butz said.

National Security Celebrates 20th Birthday

National Security Insurance Company, is currently celebrating its twenty sixth year of service to the Southern United States. The company, which writes Life, health and accident, and debt insurance in Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi, also through its wholly owned subsidiary, National Security Fire and Casualty also writes low value dwelling insurance in the state of Texas as a nonadmitted Company as well as offering substandard fire insurance on commercial property.

The combined assets of the two Companies exceed $10,000,000. Results for the two years ending December 31, 1972, include a combined premium income of $6,481,329 and net earnings per share of $1.98. Consolidated earnings for the first quarter ended March 31, 1973, were $1,000,000.

Dan Linton at Auburn is one of our specialists who studies market all the time. I asked him to give us a statement I could pass on to the farmers on the outlook of cattle prices. This is what he said: "Beef is in great demand throughout the world. Feeder calf prices will likely hold steady to strong throughout the fall; however, each of you may want to run your calves on small grain and shoot for heavier weights and higher prices in the spring. A 550 pound calf sold at 60 cents per pound is only $330.00 per animal. But if held until spring one may sell a 650 pound feeder at 50 cents per pound. This represents 320.00 per animal or $115.00 margin for venturing."

Coffee County farmers have an excellent opportunity to grow winter grazing. Winter grazing will keep the soil together, will furnish lots of feed for cattle, and in many cases can be used to carry calves, especially fall end calves, to heavier weights and greater profits.

Have you ever heard of million dollar rain? This is what we have gotten in the past few days. Chances are it could very easily be a two or three million dollar rain when you consider it will help the peanuts, younger corn, pastures, gardens and lawns.

I talked with John Hampt Day and his son Hampt last night and they had gotten about an inch of rain Thursday and Friday. They live south of Auburn in McCall's Store Community. Their area was extremely dry last year, and the would normally be digging some two weeks later. Consequently most folks need to continue their spray or dust program later than usual.

LAWS
We have had some experience the past couple of weeks at our new office getting a lawn started. We have over an acre around the buildings that we have planted to Meyer Zoyzia. This is a grass that has a dark green color and the blades are larger than Emerald or Matrella Zoyzia. It won't do as well as in dense shade as Emerald and Matrella, but of course we do not have any trees at the Farm Center.

We sent a soil sample in and used a ton of lime and plenty of mixed fertilizer and also used a lot of broiler house manure. It will take it probably close to a year to really be a beautiful sod.

Around the coliseum we are putting Emerald Zoyzia which has a fine blade and is also a beautiful grass. So visitors to the Farm Office Agricultural Center will get to see two types of Zoyzia grass lawns.

BAKING EQUIPMENT
When baking, using the right pan for the job can mean the difference between success and failure.
Cookies and biscuits are baked in a hot oven for a short length of time. So they need a baking pan or sheet that reflects enough heat to prevent burning. Aluminum is preferred because it will not darken with use; tin pans darken quickly at the high temperatures used for baking biscuits.

Pans with high sides prevent good browning on the top of cakes, cookies and biscuits. Cookie sheets that are too large for the oven interfere with the circulation of heat.
Baking only a few cookies or biscuits on a large sheet will cause heat to be drawn to the small area on which the biscuits are placed and over-browning on the bottom will result.
Both glass and enamel absorb and hold heat, so the bottom crust will bake faster and be well-browned and crisp. A dulled aluminum pan doesn't give as good results because the bottom crust bakes more slowly. Tin pans are so shiny that heat is reflected, resulting in a pale, soggy undercrust.
The freeze was lifted because high feed and other production costs made it almost impossible for poultry, pork, and dairy products to make a profit. Continuation of the freeze could have resulted in shortages of these products. Higher prices of these grocery items will reflect increasing production costs.

Hopefully lifting the price ceiling will encourage more production of scarce food items and prevent shortages in these areas.
FREEZING FISH AT HOME
A highly recommended method for freezing fish to prevent drying out and moisture loss is glazing. This method coats the fish with ice, causing a seal which prevents drying. It is as efficient as the better known method of freezing the fish in a block of ice, and takes less freezer space for storage. To glaze the fish, clean it, place in a single layer on a tray loosely wrapped. As soon as the fish is frozen, dip it quickly in cold water. If the fish is completely frozen, a glaze will form immediately. If the glaze does not form, return the fish to the freezer until it is completely frozen. Repeat the glazing process three or four times. A thin coat of ice will result from each dipping. Handle the fish carefully to avoid breaking the glaze. Wrap the fish in airtight wrappings, such as cellophane, aluminum foil, polyethylene or laminated paper.
Fish may be frozen in a solid block of ice simply by filling a container with water and placing in the freezer until it is solidly frozen around the fish. Then wrap the block in moisture vapor proof material and return to the freezer.

So, it is best not to wait until fall to prune the plants around the house.
Summer pruning also keeps the plants in bounds and gives them a much neater appearance and in many cases, pruning increases flowering next spring.
The price freeze has ended on pork, poultry, and dairy products, but not on beef. The freeze on beef prices will continue until September 12.
Lifting of the freeze means consumers can expect an immediate five to eight per cent increase.
The freeze was lifted because high feed and other production costs made it almost impossible for poultry, pork, and dairy products to make a profit. Continuation of the

OLD LETTER GIVES COFFEE INFORMATION

The following is a letter written over half a century ago, from the law offices of Claude Riley, Esq., and J. H. Carmichael, Esq., to Hon. Thomas M. Owen, Director of Archives Dept., at Montgomery.
The letter was dated August 1st, 1916, and indicates that Mr. Owen had written these attorneys at Elba asking for information pertaining to various places in the County. The letter was copied by Gus and Ruby Bryan, of Opp, and submitted by Mrs. Sharon Ward, great niece of the author.
"Dear Owen:
I have devoted two or three days to getting information relative to the history of post offices, etc., but I have been unable to find anyone who seems to know a great deal more about it than I know to begin with, and I here with give the history of the places named, as near as I can, and if you use the information contained herein, you can put it in your own language.
Arcus Post Office is comparatively a new office, having been established within the last fifteen years; it is on the Elba & Victoria Public Road, and is kept by Mr. W. C. Maddox, who runs a small store, and a grain mill, gin, ground pea and velvet bean picker, thrasher, hay press, and possibly some other machinery at his place. It is three miles South-west of Victoria, and I suppose got its name from a relative of Mr. W. C. Maddox, who was an Arcus, a son of a man named Arcus, who was a Star Route, between Elba and Victoria.
Clintonville Post Office is twelve miles East of Elba on the old Elba and Oak Road, and is one of the oldest towns in Coffee County; there being only three very old towns in the County according to my recollection, viz, Clintonville, Elba and Victoria.
Clintonville, for many years before the Civil War, was called Indigo Head, and was, according to my understanding, something like one-half mile South of the present site, and so called on account of the vast quantity of indigo growing around the place where the voters met to cast their ballots. Clintonville was the site of the Post Office, and precinct was changed to its present site, but I have never heard, and can find no one who can tell me why the name Clintonville was given to Elba, the County Site of Coffee County, was named a good many years before the war. That is its name was changed from Bentonville. The old town of Bentonville was about one and one-half miles South-East of the present site of Elba, with possibly a post office and store, and later Bentonville was established near the present site of Elba, but nearer in and near the banks of the river. The writer now owns the place where Bentonville was established when moved here. J. B. Simmons, who afterwards, and up until his death, a few years ago, took a very active part in the (line or lines left out).
Enterprise Post Office, down in the Southeastern part of the County, was known before the war, and up until about twenty-five years ago as Drake Eye. I cannot ascertain for what reason this name was given it. It was located about three and one-half miles Northeast of the present town of Enterprise, and there was very little, if anything else, but a Post Office there. Later, and while the country around about, and especially South and Southwest of the present town of Enterprise, was virgin pine wood, three pioneer citizens of that section, viz, J. H. Carmichael, W. S. Edwards and H. M. Bruner - each of them being a son-in-law of Dr. J. L. Brown, of Hawridge, Alabama, changed the name of the Post Office from Drake Eye to Enterprise, and a few years afterwards the post office was moved to where the town of Enterprise is now, and three men mentioned hereinabove had each homesteaded lands in the community of the present Enterprise, the most of the lands where the town now is located being homesteaded by J. H. Carmichael.

The first name applied to the Post Office which was about 300 yards from the present site of Clintonville, Alabama, was Cross-trails. This town is located in the extreme Southwestern part of the County, and the Post Office was established there about forty years ago, and kept for a good many years by Joel J. Adams, who owned a great deal of the property around about there. And about twenty years ago, when the L. & N. R. R. was built through there the name was changed to Boom. The name was given the town in honor of the wife of P. N. Hickman, now of Geneva, whose name is known, that it is rather a nick-name. P. N. Hickman, just a short while before the railroad was built through there, had bought out a great deal of the land formerly (line or lines left out) being the name that P. N. Hickman was familiarly known by, and later the name was changed from Boom to Clintonville, possibly on account of there being another town in Alabama called Pink, and about twenty years ago, when the railroad was instrumental in getting the change made.
New Brockton Post Office was first called Brock, after Hugh Brock, who owned the land about where New Brockton now is. Later this name was changed to Brockton, and still later the name was changed to New Brockton, on account of there being another Brockton, and I believe the railroad was instrumental in getting this change made. New Brockton coming into existence when the railroad was built from the main line at Watertown and running to Elba, Victoria, Alabama was for many years before the war called Smut Eye. J. C. Brown for many years prior to the war ran a saloon there, and it is said that the County, the county site was located 8 miles Southeast of Elba, and was called Old Wilburn, and when the county site was moved from Old Wilburn, there was a contest as to where it should be located, between Indigo Head, now Clintonville, and Bentonville, now Elba, and about that time the change in names, that is from Indigo Head to Clintonville, and Bentonville to Elba, took place. There has been several other post offices in the County, but their names, changes, etc., would not make very interesting reading. The first post office the writer ever saw was near where he was reared, six and one-half miles North of Elba, and was called Brannon Stand, taking its name from James Brannon, who owned a great deal of the land around about there, and the writer's father, later on, accumulated several thousand acres of land right around about it, and his home, prior to his moving to Elba in 1884, was within 50 yards of Brannon's Stand, but the post office had been discontinued for several years.

If I can serve you further, let me know.
Your friend, S/J. N. Ham
JNH-EW
(NOTE: Author's father was P. J. Ham, and the land referred to is what is now known as Big Creek. James Noah Ham was Mrs. R. H. Edwards' oldest brother.)

My corn is stunted and will not grow, it looks like it has no fertilizer. Comments such as this are common each spring. A soil test often reveals a low soil pH caused the stunted discolored condition. A condition that a ton of lime per acre, last fall would have corrected.
Years ago the low rates of fertilizer used caused little change in soil pH and several years went by before lime was needed. However, today, with 500 to 700 pounds per acre of fertilizer being applied, the soil pH can take a drastic change in two or three years. This is why a soil test should be taken once every two or three years. This fall is the time to react with the lime before the next spring's crop is planted.
FISH-KILLS
Oxygen shortage is one of the most serious causes of fish-kills in farm ponds, especially in August. W.F. Stoud recently had some fish to rots in his pond because of low oxygen.
Oxygen levels are at their lowest in the early morning around daylight. It also becomes low during cloudy and rainy weather. Oxygen shortage occurs when ponds are overstocked. Most ponds can support only about 2,000 cattfish per acre; however, a pond with a real good water supply may support as many as 3,000 fish per acre.
If an oxygen shortage is noted, the pond owner can aerate the water by pumping it into the air and letting it fall onto a piece of tin or some other large object. This disperses the water and allows a large amount of water to come in contact with the air, therefore absorbing more oxygen.
If a pump is not available, 20-50 pounds of superphosphate per surface acre should be applied. This will promote the growth of green plants which in turn produces the oxygen.

HOSPITAL IS 10 YEARS OLD THIS WEEK

A NURSE CARRYING A TRAY OF MEDICINE. Immediately turns your train of thought to hospitals and that is the purpose of this picture. The Elba General Hospital will be ten years old this Saturday and the second section of this newspaper is dedicated entirely to our local hospital and the people who keep it running from day to day, twenty-four hours a day.

Editor's note: Many local business managers will wonder why they were not called upon for an advertisement in this special section. It was the purpose of this feature to salute our local hospital and not to make a bunch of money for the publishers and therefore, when we had solicited enough ads to pay the expenses of compiling and publishing the section, ad soliciting was halted.

ELBA ALL STARS WIN TROPHY IN TOURNAMENT

The Elba Dixie Youth All-Stars were defeated 4-3 by the Dothan Americans last Wednesday night. Their efforts won them a runner-up trophy and praise from the Dothan Americans coach.

For those who haven't kept up with the All-Stars, their sub-district tournament play began Tuesday in the first inning with an opening triple by Perry Fuller and a homerun by the second batter, Marty Marler.

The shut-out was pitched by Marty Marler who struck out 14 Troy batters.

Elba's second sub-district game was against Greenville who was defeated 6-1.

Johnson and Hutcheson are incumbent Trustees for District I and II, respectively.

Pitcher Larry Ware struck out nine while Vince Bowers, Ricky Harvelson and Q. P. Carpenter led Elba's hitting attack.

In the final sub-district game, Elba defeated Troy again, this time 11-0 with Marty Marler pitching this shut-out also.

Vince Bowers was credited with making some fine catches in right field that could have resulted in Troy's scoring.

Outstanding hitters for Elba were: Q. P. Carpenter who hit a homerun; Calvin Belcher who hit a three-run homer; Dougie Martin and Marty Marler.

After the sub-district tournament the Elba All-Stars then went to the District Tournament where they lost their opening game to Oark 5-1. They came back Saturday to defeat Enterprise 5-2 and then defeated Cottonwood Monday night 13-10. In defeating Cottonwood, Elba collected 11 hits to come from 7-0 behind.

Elba also hit six home-runs in this game—three in succession. Marty Marler hit two, Q. P. Carpenter hit two and Larry Ware hit one.

In the fourth District game Elba came from 2-0 behind to defeat the Dothan Americans 9-5. Elba scored 8 runs in the bottom of the second inning in this come-from-behind win.

Calvin Belcher, Marty Marler, and Larry Ware all hit home-runs in the second inning to contribute to the scoring. Gary Wise and Perry Fuller also had hits.

Marty Marler was the winning pitcher.

Elba's last game was against the Dothan Americans again but they lost this time 4-3. Elba had a chance for a bye but didn't win the flip of the coin. Elba had to go back to Dothan the next night and play Dothan in the rain.

Dothan had jumped out front 4-0 by the second inning and it appeared as though Elba wouldn't even score. However, Elba began a comeback in the bottom of the third inning led by an opening single by Calvin Belcher. Marty Marler then hit a homerun which made the score 4-2 in the third inning. Marty Marler scored Elba's third and final run in the fifth inning on a single by Larry Ware.

The Elba All-Stars were defeated, but not before setting six batting records in the District Tournament. The Dothan Americans coach said the Elba All-Stars were the best hitting little league team he had ever seen.

The coaches appreciate the help and support offered by parents and little league baseball fans.
